This tennis camp is for the players who are serious about getting better...Wanting to be at a higher position on their junior high, high school or college team. Wanting to be at a higher level in their USTA rankings; or just to become overall better...

You will work hard; but it is a fun hard in which you know you got better technically, physically and mentally.

This is a tennis camp not your typical tennis daycare camp. You are in the heat...you are working...you are sweating...and you are getting better; tougher; and smarter.

Which will lead to better consistency, lasting longer, recovering faster, less mental and physical breakdowns. For this to happen you have to work hard. Its not just going to happen.

For in tennis, there is only one winner and a lot of losers. No one loses on purpose. You have to out work them, out hit them, out last them. For that to happen you have to be willing to work hard for it...sweat for it... possibly bleed for it...

If winning was easy then everyone would be a world champion; but that is not the case. To be good at tennis you have to work your rear-end off; the better player doesn't always win. The player who is hungry, works harder, smarter, and finds the weakness of the opponent and then attacks relentlessly usually does.
